Danimex Communication, 1 March 2010

Get connected - free ThurayaDSL terminal

In the current financial climate, organizations are fighting to contain operating costs. When it comes to satellite communication out in the field these costs can vary considerably from month to month. To be without communication is not an option. Entry costs are usually quite high since user equipment has to be purchased as well as the monthly cost of service and usage.

We at Danimex understand the need for both communication and the need for competitively priced services and equipment. To meet this need we offer a ThurayaDSL terminal for free for customers who sign up for ThurayaDSL Extra or ThurayaDSL Unlimited subscriptions. Market price for ThurayaDSL is approximately 2.000 USD.

Stay Connected! - Free ThurayaIP terminal*

At the end of 2010 the ThurayaDSL terminal will be retired due to Thuraya's strategy to offer ThurayaIP only. ThurayaDSL Extra and Unlimited subscribers will not need to worry as they will get a ThurayaIP for free after completing 6 months of ThurayaDSL service by signing up for a new service contract and returning the ThurayaDSL. Market price for a ThurayaIP terminal is approximately 4.000 USD.

Once the ThurayaIP is received, customers who are content to use the 144Kbps ThurayaDSL service can continue doing so, enjoying the same prices and service using the ThurayaIP terminal for the contract period. Customers who would like to have a higher bandwidth of up to 444Kbps can sign up for a ThurayaIP service instead, which also gives the customer a choice of asymmetrical streaming for video and audio.

What this offer means for you is that you can get the service without having to purchase the terminals!

Note: 1 free terminal for each subscription.

This promotion is valid until May 31st 2010, or while ThurayaDSL stock lasts.
